
Title: Blueprints

Author: Cousteau Perron

Bizarre drawings unlike any you have ever seen are mixed into this page, along with dense technical jargon.

Lift component necessary.
Air elemental, fire elemental mixed propellant along with accelerant to increase output?
Sulfurous ash unable to sustain reaction to necessary levels. Possible computational errors in ballast tanks requiring adjustment, or necessary to redesign once more?

Mathematically speaking, possible...but all attempts thus far at full scale designs failed. Miniatures show promise...more testing necessary. Another visit to Josef perhaps illuminates failures in scale conversion?
